U.S. Armor debuts the 6000 series + Outlast fabric in Germany

U.S. Armor along with our international representation, The MAE Group, recently attended the IWA Outdoor Classics held at the Messezentrum in Nuremberg, Germany earlier this month. At this 4-day show, we debuted the latest in USA-made ballistic protection to a wide range of agencies in the international market world-wide.

Attendees at the show marveled at the lightweight and extremely flexible feel of the Enforcer 6000 (Level IIIA) and the cooling effect produced when uniquely paired with the Outlast Heat-Managing fabric. Due to the large demand in Europe and Asia for USA-made body armor, U.S. Armor fulfilled a vital gap over the weekend at IWA in a region where high quality and comfortable body armor can be difficult to find. We had a great time visiting this beautiful city and seeing all of our overseas partners and friends. We look forward to seeing you in 2016!
